

Dear Parents,

In class we are discussing ways to earn money. The students talked about different chores they might do at home to earn money. Then, the children made a chore chart, which they are bringing home today.

I realize many parents choose not to give their children an allowance. An alternative might be to give your child “play” money. This play money could be used at home to buy treats, such as an after - school snack.

Recently your child came home with saving and spending containers. I encourage you to continue using them as your child learns to earn money.

Thank you for your continued interest in your child’s education.

Sincerely,
